What Data Do We Process?

This includes, in particular, your contact details as well as medical information such as medical history, diagnoses, examination results, findings, medications and medical reports.

Which Systems Do We Use?

RED Medical

Practice management and medical documentation.

Eudaria

Support for medical documentation and transcription. Draft documentation is medically reviewed before being added to the patient record.

Doctolib

Appointment management, patient communication, reminder and recall functions, as well as secure digital exchange of medical reports, findings and other medical documents.

PVS HAG/BW

Private medical billing, provided that you have consented to the corresponding transfer of data and assignment of claims.

Where external service providers process data on our behalf, the required data protection agreements are concluded.

Disclosure of Your Data

Medical data will only be disclosed where this is necessary for your treatment, where there is a legal obligation to do so, or where you have consented to the disclosure.

All medical data is subject to medical confidentiality.

Retention Period

Your treatment records are stored in accordance with the statutory retention periods. Medical documentation must generally be retained for at least ten years.

Your Rights

Subject to the applicable legal requirements, you have, in particular, the right of access, rectification, restriction of processing, erasure, data portability and objection, as well as the right to withdraw consent previously given with effect for the future.

Statutory medical documentation and retention obligations remain unaffected by this.
